

CAMERON HUGHES

Lot 115 Chardonnay

2007, Russian River Valley, Sonoma County

“Well-rounded from oak ageing yet sprightly with great overall structure and balance. Finishes with pretty fruit and sweet oak notes. Absolutely delicious.”

Our company was founded on the concept that exquisite wine should be available at everyday prices. Cameron is a wine négociant who travels the world in search of exceptional wines to share with wine lovers in select markets. Our wines are sourced from the finest growers and winery partners who must remain anonymous as they produce wines for much more expensive projects.

CAMERON HUGHES Lot 115 Chardonnay

2007, Russian River Valley, Sonoma County

Taste: The richest of our latest Russian River Chardonnays, this wine features a brilliant gold hue and equally pretty nose of spicy apple, honey and pears. Deliciously round from oak ageing yet sprightly with great overall structure and balance. Finishes with pretty fruit and sweet oak notes. Absolutely delicious.

Cameron Confidential: A famous Sonoma winery came to us late last summer with an opportunity: they had two ranches which they had contracted for additional growth but had been unable as yet to use the fruit. Rather than break the contracts they wanted to make the wines for us. With supply tightening on chardonnay we leapt at the opportunity.

The house style of this producer is to produce a brighter style of RRV chardonnay with judicious use of oak and no malolactic fermentation.

These wines are built to pair well with food and this is evidenced by the producer's huge presence on US wine lists. Their production processes are second to none with hand-sorting, whole cluster pressing, and top-quality French oak barrel fermentations. 85% of this blend was fermented and aged 6 months in new French oak barrels and is one of three blends we assembled from the numerous blocks harvested from two Russian River Valley Ranches.
