

CAMERON HUGHES Lot 130 Chardonnay

2007 Russian River Valley

“Big, rich, and buttery. This RRV Chardonnay has that in spades but is well built over a gorgeous beam of acidity that keeps it fresh and bright throughout. That’s what makes the Russian River Valley so special — delicious fruit and creamy oak but never fat or cloying. Full bodied yet crisp with spicy lemon and butter-scotch flavors.”

Our company was founded on the concept that exquisite wine should be available at everyday prices. Cameron is a wine négociant who travels the world in search of exceptional wines to share with wine lovers in select markets. Our wines are sourced from the finest growers and winery partners who must remain anonymous as they produce wines for much more expensive projects.

CAMERON HUGHES

Lot 130 Chardonnay

2007 Russian River Valley

Taste: Lot 130 is a wine I am thrilled to tell you about, mostly because it is a style we haven't done much of: big, rich, buttery. Lot 130 Russian River Valley Chardonnay has that in spades but is well built over a gorgeous beam of mineral acidity that keeps it fresh and bright throughout. That beam is what makes the Russian River Valley so special — you can hang all that delicious fruit and creamy oak and keep the wine from getting fat or cloying. Like Lot 134, Lot 130 Russian River Valley Chardonnay has a screaming nose, redolent with rich tropical fruit, citrusy notes, and creamy butterscotch. The palate is full bodied yet crisp with spicy lemon and butterscotch flavors.

Cameron Confidential: Just for its pure, lush, hedonistic nature, this is one my favorite CHW chardonnays. It does cost a slight bit more than our other RRV chardonnays but that's because she's go all bells and whistles.
