

CAMERON HUGHES

Lot 135 Central Coast Syrah

2007, Santa Ynez Valley/Westside Paso Robles

"A great buy in a truly well-made and balanced Syrah!"

WALL STREET JOURNAL

Broad, deep and redolent with spicy plums, blackberry fruit, pepper, and pain grillé. Super smooth, showing outstanding oak and tannin integration with framed fruit and a long, deep finish.

Our company was founded on the concept that exquisite wine should be available at everyday prices. Cameron is a wine négociant who travels the world in search of exceptional wines to share with wine lovers in select markets. Our wines are sourced from the finest growers and winery partners who must remain anonymous as they produce wines for much more expensive projects.

Lot 135 Central Coast Syrah

2007, Santa Ynez Valley/Westside Paso Robles

Taste: Inky black color with a red rim. Soaring nose of smoky spice and meat, plums, blueberries, and violet highlights. The palate is broad and deep and redolent with spicy plums, blackberry fruit, pepper, and pain grillé. Super smooth on the palate, this wine shows outstanding oak and tannin integration with framed fruit and a long, deep, broad finish.

Cameron Confidential: This wine consists of actually two single vineyard designates blended together (one from Santa Ynez, the other from Westside Paso Robles). We would have bottled them separately—but they were simply better together. In fact, because we blended them together we lost the more marketable sub-appellations.

We sourced this beauty from a winemaker famous for Rhône Varietals who hasn't scored anything less than 90 points from Parker or Tanzer on any Syrah he has made since the '90s. This gentleman actually has some excess capacity at his winery and will be sourcing for us another Syrah out of 2009. Booyah.
